MAIN FEATURE

AT ETERNITY'S GATE

Award-winning painter/filmmaker Julian Schnabel employs all of his film making wiles to vividly recreate the tail end of Vincent van Gogh's prolific days. Uncannily brought to life by Willem Dafoe, "it is a film that strives to capture the ecstatic presentness, the immersion in the moment and the blazing, almost athletic certainty with which Van Gogh painted." Guardian

WHAT MEN WANT

This sassy gender swap comedy sees crack sports agent Taraji P Henson gain the gift of hearing what men think, with all the potential for insight, comedy and social critique that promises! "Henson shines in this solid comedy that also manages to compellingly explore bias against women." ScreenRant

Black History Studies presents

QUEEN NANNY: LEGENDARY MAROON CHIEFTAINESS

This kicks off our exciting collaboration with Black History Studies, a season of films that shine a light on lives, history and culture too often overlooked. This doc tells the inspiring story of a fierce queen who rebelled against her enslavement in Jamaica. With a live intro from BHS co-founder Charmaine Simpson.

OUT OF BLUE

"When a film-maker aims this high, how can one do anything but watch in wonder?" ★★★★★ Mark Kermode
