MAIN FEATURE

PETERLOO

Slice-of-life realist Mike Leigh brings all of his nuanced understanding of human nature to bear in this historical drama. Working on a sumptuous and theatrical canvas, Leigh presents the infamous Peterloo Massacre of 1819, where government-backed cavalry charged into a peaceful crowd of 80,000 gathered in Manchester to demand democratic reform. Maxine Peake is Nellie, a hardened worker with a shell-shocked soldier son; Rory Kinnear a smug agitator, come up from London to mediate; but otherwise it's a crowded canvas of characters, veering from industrial Manchester to the pomp of Westminster and back again. "With this richly intelligent, passionate movie Mike Leigh has fought a brilliant rearguard action on history's political battlefield." ★★★★★ Guardian

We find broad canvas history is a thirsty business, so the bar will be open from 6:30 during the week.

Lexi Film School:

BRAM STOKER'S DRACULA

Host Josh Sacco of Cigarette Burns Cinema presents Francis Ford Coppola's swooningly seductive take on the classic, with Gary Oldman, Winona Ryder and Anthony Hopkins. £9/7 gets you film notes, live intro from Josh and an exceptional evening "steeped in the feeling of an ancient evil." Esquire

Met Opera Encore: MARNIE

This boundary-pushing visual feast from Nico Mulhy is a gripping reimagining of Hitchcock's classic.
